Things God won't ask on that day

God won't ask the square footage of your house.
He'll ask how many people you welcomed to your home.

God won't ask about the clothes you have.
He'll ask how many you helped to clothe.

God won't ask what your salary is.
He'll ask if you helped those less fortunate.

God won't ask how many friends you had.
He'll ask how many people you were a friend to.

God won't ask in what neighborhood you lived.
He'll ask how you treated your neighbors.

God won't ask about the color of your skin.
He'll ask about the content of your character.

I hope everyone enjoyed the bulletins while I was gone. Kari did a good job and I am proud of her for accepting the responsibility.

Please e-mail a list of the visiting preachers so I can include it in upcoming bulletins.

Have you ever, Laughed so hard no sound comes out?

Little Philip was spending the weekend with his grandmother after a particularly trying week in infant school. His grandmother decided to take him to the park on Saturday morning. It had been snowing all night and everything was beautiful. His grandmother commented, 'Doesn't it look like an artist painted this scenery? Did you know God painted this just for you?' 'Yes,' replied Philip, 'God did it and he did it left handed.' This confused his grandmother so she asked him, 'What makes you say God did this with his left hand?' 'Well,' said Philip, 'we learned at Sunday School last week that Jesus sits on God's right hand.'

I dream of a better tomorrow...where chickens can cross roads and not have their motives questioned.

Old Aunts used to come up to me at weddings, poke me in the ribs and tell me, "You're next." They stopped after I started doing the same thing to them at funerals.

When nothing goes right, go left.

The moment you walked into a spider web and instantly turned into a Karate Master.
