Pray without Ceasing

Brother Quinn is home from the hospital and is feeling some better, but very weak. The one Doctor thinks it was the stones. Hope that was it and he can come back to church.

Brother Don is staying strong. Good to see him at church.

Shelly is going to Mt. Juliet Missionary Baptist. Today will be her first visit. Pray that she will feel at home there.

Pray for our Church that we will find the right Preacher.

Mary Jo was able to be at church Sunday. Friday she was not feeling well. She is going to a new doctor on Tuesday. Pray for her and her Doctors that they can find the cause.

Irene's knee surgery is scheduled for May 6th. Pray that everything will turn out o.k.

Addyson Clark update

The results from Addyson's fast sequence MRI showed the tumors the same as the last scan. This type of MRI is quick so would not show any shuttle changes that might possibly explain her vision changes. She is still on a waiting list to get her full brain and spine MRI. If something doesn't come open earlier she is scheduled for May 7th. She also has an appointment with the Nuero ophthalmologist on Tuesday. Addyson is frustrated with not being able to get around on her own and also the vision changes. I know that it is so hard for a 4 year old to understand. I hope that we can have some type of understanding of what is happening. Thank you all so much for your continued prayers we appreciate them so much !

Happy Birthday

Happy Anniversary

Joyce and James Parker      May 5th

know we aren't as young as we used to be My hips pop, my joints knock, and I can barely see
But I still remember getting down on one knee
And asking you sweetly if you'd marry me

At least...I think that was you
I have to admit, you've changed a lot too!
You're skins a bit looser and your hair is blue
And you're favorite food's the kind you don't have to chew

We've had our ups, we've had our downs we've have our smiles and our frowns we've both learned to make some interesting sounds
we've both put on a couple of pound

We've wheeze and coughed, we grunted and grumbled we've yell and screamed, we muttered and mumbled
And there have been times when we've faltered and fumbled
But you've been there to catch me whenever I stumbled

There's really nowhere I'd rather be
Than sitting with my hand on your knobby old knee
Swinging and singing, just you and me
On the day of our anniversary.

Laughter is an instant vacation. ~Milton Berle

It was Palm Sunday but because of a sore throat, 5-year-old Johnny stayed home from church with a sitter. When the family returned home, they were carrying several palm fronds. Johnny asked them what they were for. "People held them over Jesus' head as he walked by," his father told him. "Wouldn't you know it," Johnny fumed, "the one Sunday I don't go and he shows up."

One Easter Sunday morning as the pastor was preaching a children's sermon, he reached into his bag of props and pulled out an egg. He pointed at the egg and asked the children, "What's in here?"

"I know, I know!" a little boy exclaimed, "pantyhose!"

Muldoon lived alone in the Irish countryside with only a pet dog for company. One day the dog died, and Muldoon went to the parish priest and asked, "Father, me dog is dead. Could ya' be saying' a mass for the poor creature?" Father Patrick replied, "I'm afraid not; we cannot have services for an animal in the church. But there are some Baptists down the lane, and there's no tellin' what they believe. Maybe they'll do something for the creature." Muldoon said, "I'll go right away Father. Do ya' think $5,000 is enough to donate to them for the service?"

Father Patrick exclaimed, "Sweet Mary, Mother of Jesus! Why did ya' not tell me the dog was Catholic?"

Several children found a dead robin. Feeling that a proper burial should be performed, they secured a small box and some cotton batting, dug a hole in the back yard, and made ready to dispose of the deceased. The minister's 5-year-old son was chosen to say the prayer. And so with great dignity, he intoned, "Glory be to the Father...and unto the Son...and into the hole he goes."

Meet a Member

James Parker

What is one of your favorite gospel songs?

The Prettiest Powers

What is your day of the week?

It was on a great day

What is your favorite color?

Red

What is your favorite Ice Cream?

Vanilla

What is one of the silliest things you did as a child?

My cousin and I found what we thought was a ground hog den. It turned out to be a skunk den with a bunch of little ones. We took them to the house and mama about ran us off.

I know there is a land of beautiful flowers
Where we will meet again when life is o'er
Where we will while away the endless hours
On heaven's bright eternal shore

The prettiest beds of flowers will bloom
By the prettiest streets our eyes will e'er behold
Where the beautiful tree of life for us is waiting
By the prettiest mansion made with purest gold.

On Heaven's golden strand there'll be no more dying.
No chilling winds or tempest e'er will blow
It is a land of love and wonderous beauty
Where fragrant flowers ever grow.

The prettiest beds of flowers there will bloom
By the prettiest streets our eyes will e'er behold
Where the beautiful tree of life for us is waiting
the prettiest mansion made with purest gold
The prettiest robes and crowns we all will wear
In that city four square beyond this world of strife

I want to meet you by that beautiful river
On that eternal morning in the sky
Where we will live in peace through endless ages
Where we will never say goodbye
And the prettiest songs with the angels we'll be singing
On that beautiful morning by the river of life.
